AMERICAN MERCHANTS

Extensions Demanded by Foreign Buyers.

Officials here in touch with current export conditions today expressed the view that unless Americans merchants were willing to extend the time now given for the payment for goods sold much of the new trade developed by the European war. Steps to meet such a situation, it was pointed out, had been taken by the federal reserve board by modifying regulations governing the rediscount of bankers' acceptances. Authority now is given for renewing acceptances under certain rules which, of time extensions demanded by many foreign buyers.

The acceptance is a favorite means of taking care of exports and imports in Europe and South America, and the The 13th day of the month appears to have been a fateful day for Mrs. K. Helen Dunsworth. April 13, 1910, she was married in Baltimore to Martin J. Dunsworth, and today, Sep-

Faced Loss of Prestige.

The board's attention was called to the need for authority to give longer time to foreign purchasers more than two months ago. Merchants and bankers pointed out that unless some such change were made as the board now has authorized American prestige in foreign trade might easily be lost. With money now plentiful, an extension of time to a foreign purchaser on an acceptance, which is regarded as one of the best forms of commercial paper is not expected to embarrass the South Washington Citizens Will Meet Wednesday Evening. A meeting of the citizens of South

Washington has been called for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Dominic's School Hall, 6th and F streets southwest, for the purpose of organizing a South Washington Citizens' Association.

A number of important matters, it is declared, have been neglected owing to the absence of any one authorized to speak for the South Washington section, such as the improvement of wharf facilities, street paving, prope transportation service, a cross-tow car line and questions of equitable as sessment and taxation. These questions are to be fully considered by the proposed organization. Also an effort will be made to call attention of all citizens to the real worth of South Washington, its convenience of leasting. ington, its convenience of location to the markets and the business section etc.

A circular letter has been sent to c'tizens and business men, and a large attendance is expected at the meeting. It is the intention to invite Maj. Pullman, address the meeting, as it was the remarks made by him at a meeting few days ago that have resulted in work."

Authority Given for Granting Time Profits of Incendiaries for Five Years Said to Aggregate Millions of Dollars.

ST. LOUIS, September 13.-Insurance agents, human "torches" and unnamed "prominent" business men comprised the ice claim to have uncovered here The incendiaries, the police say, were responsible for most of the hig fires which have baffled fire and police departments here for five years, and the profits of the arson syndicate, the police say, ran into millions of dollars One insurance agent and four "torches" were arrested, the latter being trapped recently as they were about to carry it is believed, will permit the granting four barrels of gasoline into the Christer Bellows Company's plant, which they are said to have made arrangements to burn, the owners having agreed to the plan at the direction of the police. Men "Higher Up" Watched.

Arrest of the men "higher up" is expresented to a grand jury. These men he police say, are under surveillance. Herbert O. Baker, the insurance agent vas released on bond, as were the four "torches."

According to City Detective Bart Keaney, whose investigations led to the arrests, Baker has confessed and has implicated many others. The plan of the syndicate, as outlined by the police, follows:

The fires then were so started by a "torch" that the building or a great part of it was in ruins when the fire department arrived. Though the men "higher up" usually held out $5,000 or $6,000 for the active incendiarian, no "torch" has ever received more than $1,000 for a job, detectives say.

Scores of recent fires here bore signs of incendiary origin such as is attributed to this syndicate. The conversations of the insurance agent and the "torches" who made plans for the Christen Company fire, the police say, were recorded by a dictograph and by stenographers and detectives who were hidden within earshot.
